

CIRCUS HARMONY

Our artistic/ executive director, Jessica Hentoff, started this work in 1989 when she founded the St. Louis Arches youth circus troupe. In 2001, Circus Day Foundation was formed to expand the circus education opportunities for St. Louis youth. Circus Day's first project was Circus Salaam Shalom, which brought together Jewish and Muslim children. Since then, we have developed youth circus troupes that include Jewish, Christian, Caucasian, Hispanic, African-American and Asian children from inner city and suburban areas throughout St. Louis. In 2007, the St. Louis Arches went international when they traveled to Israel. Currently, we teach circus arts to over 1300 people and our students present over 400 shows a year. In 2008, Circus Day changed its name to Circus Harmony to more clearly reflect the work we do.

By turning you upside down,
We teach you to stand on your own two feet.
By dropping objects,
We teach you to catch them.
By having you walk all over someone,
We teach you to take care of them.
And, by clowning around,
We teach you to take yourself seriously.
